

Signs Revolution, the best way to stand out and attract new customers...

HCAC spoke to Mario Herrera and Patricia Rubiano, owners of Signs Revolution and together we bring you tips for you to be in control of your customer's needs in a market saturated with so many offers.

Signs Revolution

Signs Revolution was created in October 2010, initially dedicated to serving businesses' printing and advertising needs such as banners, business front and window signs, vehicle ads, among others; all printed in excellent quality materials and applied on different materials such as aluminum, acrylic, magnet, wood, etc.

At its inception the company used a small machine but in 2013, acquired larger machines and relocated to a 1700 sqft office and at this time 100% dedicated to the business of signs.

In November 2015, they made a new acquisition of automatic machinery, these for the development of LED illuminated letters, which highlighted the company and helped them settle at a much higher level, making a reference to the needs of this market.

Among other services offered to their customers, there are:

Corporate image development, printing of logos, business cards, brochures, ads, and everything needed for business advertising.
